Fairfax, VA - Paciulli, Simmons & Associates has hired Michael DeRosier, AICP, LA, LEED AP Neighborhood Development as Director of Environmental, Sustainability and Planning.

DeRosier joins the firm with more than 22 years of project management and technical design expertise in planning, landscape architecture, civil engineering, and urban design. He has collaboratively worked with stakeholders, consultant teams and contractor teams on a variety of projects including mixed-use, residential, commercial, state and local government, educational, parks and recreation, and sustainable design.

DeRosier is an AICP certified planner, licensed landscape architect and LEED AP Neighborhood Development. As one of only eight professionals in the Commonwealth of Virginia to receive the LEED AP Neighborhood Development credential, he possesses specialized knowledge of green building principles and a strong commitment to green building design, construction, and operations.

DeRosier is a graduate of Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Arts in Landscape Architecture. He is a member of the National Association of Environmental Professionals, American Planning Association, American Institute of Certified Planners, International Society of Arboriculture, and the Project Management Institute.

Established in 1744, Paciulli, Simmons & Associates is a multi-disciplinary consulting engineering firm providing superior expertise in civil engineering, land planning, land surveying, landscape architecture, environmental and wetland science, archaeology and architectural history, and sustainable design services. The firm's project experience includes serving public agencies and private sector companies in design/build, mixed-use, residential, state and local government, federal/military, educational, parks and recreation, redevelopment/urban planning, transportation, utilities, commercial, and sustainable design projects.
